A Seminar on DevOps

Department of Information Technology organized a Seminar on DevOps on 24th September 2019 for upgrading knowledge in the field of DevOps.

DevOps is the combination of practices and tools that increases an organization's ability to deliver applications and services at high velocity: evolving and improving products at a faster pace than organizations using traditional software development and infrastructure management processes. It enables organizations to better serve their customers and compete effectively in the market.

Total 93 students of S.E., T.E. and B.E. from Information Technology Department attended the seminar delivered by Mr. Madhusudan Bhosale, Developer from Seed Infotech Ltd, Kolhapur. It was coordinated Prof. Swati Powar.
