Principal's Address on Preparing for a Better Career for FE Students

First Year Engineering Students' Association organized a Principal's Address on "Preparing for a Better Career" to the Student of First Year on 27 April 2023 and 04, 05 May 2023.

Prof. D. S. Nangare, the event coordinator welcomed the students. Dr Kaushal also welcomed all the students to the institute and congratulated students for getting admission to engineering. He explained the difference between science and engineering. He encouraged students to strive for innovation. He told to students that First Year Engineering is very vital in developing their basics for learning engineering skills at higher semesters. He told students the importance of engineering and explained how technology is developing with rapid speed. He guided students about how to study effectively and prepare for a better career. He advised students to work on communication skills in addition to technical expertise. He motivated all the students for studying and developing practical engineering skills. He instructed students to focus on the placement and required skills.

A total of 193 students attended the programme. - Dr Y. G. Mulye, HoD First Year Engineering proposed a vote of thanks.
