

SE(IT) Curriculum Crossword, 19 April 2018

Contributions: Prof. S V Jadhav, Sprooha Athalye, S S Tolye M R Balpande. Typeset- Prof. S V Jadhav

ACROSS

2.State transition Function, 7.Python keyword to keep code under trial for exception, 9.Python function used for mapping of list elements, 10.Popular Unix scripting language, 11.String with zero occurrence of symbols, 12.An execution context, 13.Finite non-empty set of symbols, 16.one type of normal form in CFG, 18.One way of deriving the string, 19.Python package that contains all GUI related libraries, 21.One compression technique, 23.a networking reference model, 26.Unix command used for an automatic reminder service, 29.One of the programming languages where indentation is part of language syntax, 31.Unix Command to display the top of the file, 33.Python counterpart of Java's catch keyword, 36.Unix stream editor, 37.The agency that sits between the user and the UNIX system is called the, 38.A well-known author expertising in networking,

DOWN

1.A Unix tool for finding pattern matches in files, 3.Father of computer science, 4.Constant ordered collection in Python, 5.Unix command used to terminate a process, 6.One of the most powerful database system, 8.Python function used to return subset of list based of certain criterion, 14.Finite automata with stack memory, 15.layer responsible for host-to-host communication, 17.medium access method to sense the channel and then send data, 20.A sequence of bits added to data for error detection / Correction, 22.Python keyword used to define unanimous function, 24.Keyboard input function in Python, 25.The first technique of random access, 27.A famous algorithm to find shortest path in a network, 28.A LAN technology protocol, 30.Unix command to create & display contents of a file, 32.Packetless network transmission protocol, 34.Delimiters in dictionary definition (a type of brackets), 35.Consol output function in Python,